

BEAUTY'S QUEEN

Will Deliver 2 Lectures to the Ladies of Kansas City.

MME. YALE
Will Lecture at the Coates Opera House

Next Friday, January 21, and Saturday, 22, at 2:30 in the afternoon.

SUBJECTS:
Friday—"WOMAN'S HEALTH."
Saturday—"YALE BEAUTY SYSTEM."
Madame Yale's visit will be hailed with joy.

TICKETS COMPLIMENTARY.
Ladies are cordially invited to attend MME. YALE'S lectures next Friday and Saturday. Tickets with reserved seats can be had only at Emery, Bird, Thayer & Co., 11th St. and Main St. Department. Secure them now, as many will be returned empty.

BEAUTY A POWER.
MME. YALE'S fame as a Woman of Peerless Beauty, scientific wisdom and liberal enterprise is so well known that further comment is unnecessary. She has lectured to her own sex and has done more for their education than all of the "suffragists" and "woman's rights" agitators could do in a thousand years.

ON FRIDAY
MME. YALE'S first lecture will be devoted to "HEALTH" and all that the word implies. Sick women will be told how to get well, and well women how to stay well. The combined forces of mental and physical training will be illustrated and demonstrated; the common ailments of women treated; the female health will be scientifically treated by a system that has never failed to cure whenever employed. MME. YALE is the originator of this system and to her is due the thanks of thousands of women whose health has been restored and their lives prolonged. MME. YALE says she can consistently guarantee to make a permanent cure of ninety-nine out of every hundred sick women. See and hear her for yourself.

ON SATURDAY
MME. YALE will tell the ladies how a woman can develop herself into great beauty, and increase her loveliness from year to year, or how she can fade, grow old and wrinkled. A woman's future all depends upon herself. The Yale Cult does not permit of growing old—a new crop of beauty must be developed every year, and time only adds to its rich supply.

The Yale System of Physical Culture will be given at both lectures.

SOUVENIRS.
MME. YALE'S latest books on Health, Grace and Beauty, entitled "WOMAN'S WISDOM" and "BOOK TO BEAUTY" will be given as souvenirs; also sample bottles of MME. YALE'S valuable remedies—see each day.

UNDONE BY A SILK HAT.

Attorney Carder, charged with Larceny, identified by His Glossy Title.

"You'll have to put that plug hat on him if you want me to know him," replied Mrs. Nolan, when asked in Justice Krueger's court yesterday if she was acquainted with the defendant. "The defendant in question was Attorney T. M. Carder, concerning whom it developed recently that he was not properly authorized to practice law in this state. Yesterday, however, he was defending himself against a charge of petit larceny. A few weeks ago, according to his story, he met Mrs. A. L. Tyler on the street, and being pleased with her appearance, and hearing on careful inquiry that she was properly supplied with parents, he arranged with her to start up a hairdressing parlor. No contract or written agreement was made, Mr. Carder furnishing the money to fit up a room for her at the corner of Tenth and Main streets.

FATE AIMS AT HIGH MARKS.

fondly hoping to realize richly on his investment from his share of the profits of the business. But when the second month's rent became due and the hairdressing trust had paid no dividends, Mr. Carder took possession of the goods. Justice Krueger found him guilty, and he was sentenced to his first venture in the art of tondorial decoration and will take an appeal.

Minor Criminal Court Matters.

In the criminal court yesterday the cases against John Rosier and Jesse Bredevoe were continued generally, which is about the same thing as a dismissal. They were accused of pouncing upon a bartender in a saloon on the Southwest boulevard while he was asleep and stealing $2.

The charge against James Moore of cutting a negro was changed to common assault and he pleaded guilty to that and was given one day in jail. He had been in jail seven months awaiting trial.

Burt Handy and Charles Brinkley, who had been sentenced to five years apiece in the penitentiary, were given a stay of execution pending an appeal to the supreme court.

The trial of John Griffin, accused of forgery, was set for April 6.

George Carter's trial for robbery was set for January 22.

It Met No Return in Life and Now Her Divorced Husband Is After Her Property.

A romantic story of woman's love and man's fickleness was told in the probate court of this city yesterday. It was a story of how T. J. Hamilton deserted Johanna C. Hamilton, his wife, leaving her, and went to California, where he became lost to her; of how she waited long years for his return, and then engaged a detective and spent $500 searching for him, and when she found him he was a divorcee. It was to discover that the love she had cherished all those years was unreturned; her husband was purposely hiding from her. She came back broken-hearted to her home in this city, and got a divorce. A year later her former husband came here with a bride and settled down. He had two children by this second wife. The first child had his father's face, and to this child the divorced first wife transferred all the love that had been hers. She had property, and she made a will leaving it all to the boy of her former husband. But the boy died, and she made a new will, leaving the property to Mr. Hamilton. She died recently, but a few months before that she took the will from the office of her lawyer and it has disappeared.

T. J. Hamilton insists that the will leaving all the property of his divorced wife to him was in existence when she died, and therefore he is her legal heir. He brought a suit in the probate court, offering in evidence a copy of this will, and asking that it be declared the true will of Mrs. Johanna C. Hamilton.

The other heirs of Mrs. Hamilton, are her brother, Mr. Crow, and several nephews and nieces. They, of course, are fighting the suit of Mr. Hamilton.

The suit was on trial all day yesterday in the probate court, and as it was an unheard-of thing for a will that was nowhere in existence to be declared a valid will, many lawyers and others were there to hear the proceedings. Attorney Milton Moore testified that Mrs. Hamilton had made a will leaving her property, first to Mr. Hamilton, and then to her son, and then to Mr. Hamilton. After the boy's death she came to his office and told him that she was making a new will, and that she was leaving the property to Mr. Hamilton. Mr. Miller and Mrs. Anderson testified that Mrs. Hamilton had told them she burned the will.

The property left by Mrs. Hamilton consists of several thousand dollars in cash and two houses and lots at Thirteenth street and Baltimore avenue. Mr. Hamilton keeps a lively stable at 194 Walnut street.

Never Formally Adjudged Insane.

Enos A. Axtell filed information in the probate court yesterday, that Elizabeth Brant, now the late Major Brant, was insane and an inmate of the asylum at Nevada, Mo. She is the nearest heir of Major Brant and as he left no will, it will be necessary to examine into her mental condition, she having been formally adjudged insane. The hearing will be in the probate court some time this morning.

Information was made to the probate court yesterday that Mary J. Dunn was insane. The court will hear the evidence January 22.

Mrs. Sibert Is Administrator.

Mrs. Ella Nora Sibert, widow of the late Dr. William H. Sibert, was appointed administratrix yesterday of the estate left by him, which consists of $2,000 in real property.

Court Briefs.

Ella Lutz and Newton Lutz yesterday for divorce, alleging infidelity.

Raphael Eisen was sued in the circuit court yesterday by James Hennessy & Co., brandymakers of France, who alleged that he had sold an imitation of Three-Star Hennessy brandy.

Clara A. Ham was given judgment yesterday in the circuit court against the Kansas City Trading Stamp Company for $2, which was the amount she loaned the company to do business with.

Sheriff Stone levied yesterday on real estate owned by Horace P. McAdow under an attachment suit brought in the circuit court yesterday by the Peerless Manufacturing Company for $531.

PEOPLE IN SOCIETY.

Mrs. Walton H. Holmes will leave Saturday for California.

Mrs. Henry Metcalf left yesterday for Pasadena, Cal., to remain during the winter.

Miss Mary Sinclair, of Philadelphia, is visiting the family of her uncle, Mr. John Fairchild, of Wabash avenue.

Mrs. E. D. Lathimer is home from Leavenworth, where she went to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Fairchild.

Mr. George T. Nelles, engineer in charge of the construction of the Colbert shalis canal and docks on the Tennessee river, is visiting his family on Harrison street.

The ladies of Calvary Baptist church will serve delicious suppers in the parlor of the church Friday evening from 5 to 8 o'clock. A musical programme will also be given.

Invitations have been issued for the marriage of Miss Amy Vick Few, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abner Few, of Kansas City, Kas., to Mr. L. W. Yates on Thursday evening, at the residence of the bride's parents.

An extremely pretty though simple marriage service was performed in the Second Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon, uniting Miss Katherine Allen and Mr. William Wilson Graham. At 4 o'clock the edifice was filled with interested friends. A very beautiful arrangement of palms and other foliage plants screened the altar and the organ while wreaths of cedar twined about the lofty candelabra at either side of the reading desk. High above them, from a green arch of cedar, a large cluster of red carnations and ferns was suspended. The seats reserved for the family were designated by ropes of cedar, held by red carnations and ferns. In the center of the aisle, a large, ornate, and elegant altar was opened for the passage of the bride party. The bride entered on the arm of her brother, Mr. William Wilson, and was preceded by her maid of honor, Miss Edith Chapman, and by the ushers, Mr. C. H. Whitcomb, Mr. J. Baker, Mr. John Rowland and Mr. C. M. Prouty. The groom and his best man, Mr. James Norris, of Oquawka, Ill., advanced down the left aisle and met the bride at the altar. The bride's gown was some blue cloth, lined with red silk. A full lace vest fitted the front of the bodice, and a black velvet hairbrush, which was many times completed the costume. Her bouquet was of glowing, long stemmed, red roses. Miss Chapman wore brown cloth with edges of black braid, and vest and yoke of cream felt, trimmed with white wings, and she carried a bouquet of red roses. Dr. Jenkins, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony.

One is a volume of Francis Bacon's writings on ethics, politics and economics. The volume was published by the Elsevier press in 1652. The other is a volume of "L'Etat de Geste Romano," published in 1540. Both books are printed in Italian, and the type is very similar to that of today.

Pupils' Loss, Teachers' Gain.

All the public schools will be closed next Wednesday afternoon in order that the teachers may attend the lecture to be given at the Central high school auditorium by Dr. White, ex-state superintendent of the Ohio public schools. The address will be given between 3 and 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

The Implement Dealers' Convention

represents the greatest gathering of business men that Kansas City ever saw. Their association has over 600 members. And to show you how loyal and business-like they are over 500 of them are in attendance at the convention—and more are to come in yet. They are a representative body of men—business men—who are right up to "snuff," so to speak. They come from all parts of the great West and Southwest—from Oklahoma, Kansas, Arkansas, Indian Territory and even Illinois. The bounteous crops have made the implement dealer an important man in his section—but his level head and sagacity make him an important man, at all times, for that matter. Kansas City is proud to entertain them—they're a credit to any town they linger in. They look at things in a practical, matter-of-fact way—you can't fool them. Several were in our store yesterday, with their wives. They bought, too. There'll be more come here. They'll probably buy, too. As we said—"You can't fool 'em." They know a good thing when they see it. This Dump Sale shows them the opportunity they want. Your implement man knows a bargain when he sees it, that's why they come to this store; That's why they buy. Have you been here?

THE END

was reached—our arrangement with Mr. John L. Stoddard's publishers terminated—shortly after our announcement of THE PASSION PLAY, the last of the series of ten of his complete lectures obtainable through this paper at 25 cents apiece. But the public's interest is independent of special offers, and we are daily receiving hundreds of inquiries from readers who failed to profit by our offer when we first made it. They realized its importance only by perusing a later lecture of the series. Now, at the eleventh hour, some are writing to us in the hope of being able to secure special lectures needed to complete their sets; others send $2.50 for the entire series of ten lectures. Manifestly we cannot discriminate; if we accommodate one we must accommodate all. Therefore, for a limited time we shall undertake to fill orders for ANY or ALL of the series, composed of the following lectures:

- I. NORWAY.
- II. ATHENS-VENICE.
- III. JERUSALEM.
- IV. SWITZERLAND.
- V. CONSTANTINOPLE.
- VI. EGYPT.
- VII. JAPAN.
- VIII. CHINA.
- IX. INDIA.
- X. THE PASSION PLAY.

Beautiful Entertaining

Reproductions of Mr. Stoddard's special photographs embellish every page of these lectures, and attest the publishers' desire to make them equal in their printed form, to those incomparable discourses which made Mr. Stoddard famous. The author's retirement from the lecture platform emphasized the need of this, and therefore, all the resources of the art were employed to enhance the charm of the spoken masterpieces, and render them in permanent form as useful as well as beautiful.
